

Are you “Release Ready”? New and improved innovations are continually coming from Salesforce

Several times a year, Salesforce schedules releases to roll-out new innovations that help empower their users. Making sense of all the changes & improvements can sometimes prove to be challenging – that’s where we come in. We can help you understand what new improvements may benefit your current org (such as Einstein enhancements, Lightning features, etc), and other changes that may impact your Org (browser support changes, TLS disablements). We can also ensure you are signed up to receive the most pertinent information directly from Salesforce. Upcoming releases shouldn’t be a time to stress, but a time to get excited for the future – let us help you realize that.
